[PRESENTER]

This is the BBC Television Service. Today is Remembrance Day. Since early this morning, large crowds have been gathering about the Cenotaph in Whitehall to pay their homage to those died in the two world wars. The Bishop of London who is conducting the service has suggested this subject for thought and prayer during the two minutes silence; in remembrance of those who, during the two wars, made the great sacrifice, O God make us better men and women and give peace in our time. We now take you to Whitehall.
