

Sir Winston Churchill: The greatest Briton?

1893-1895 Sandhurst: Video transcript

He was destined for the army and so he went to the Royal Military College at Sandhurst as a gentleman cadet

Sir Shane Leslie - speaker

Of course, it's at Sandhurst – he didn't get a literary education - but was the first time he came to himself. He felt a man. He passed in low, he passed out high

Extract from BBC obituary of Churchill narrated by Richard Dimbleby