

The shock of war

Clips from Crimson Field, BBC One

Video clip 1 transcript

Pte Wilfred 'Dad' Tyrell:

You're all right there, Sister. You've got plenty to be getting on with. I don't mind waiting for the Captain.

Sister Joan Livesey:

It won't take long, don't be daft. Come on!

Pte Wilfred 'Dad' Tyrell:

No, honestly...

[CHAIR LEG CLICKS]

Sister Joan Livesey:

What happened? Did you fall out?

L / Cpl Lawrence Prentiss:

It's coming.

Sister Joan Livesey:

What is? Help me.

Pte Wilfred 'Dad' Tyrell:

There you go. He's one of them poor sods, isn't he?

Lt Col Roland Brett:

Stand back. Give him room. What on Earth's going on? Prentiss?

L / Cpl Lawrence Prentiss:

I can't stand this. I can't make it stop.

Lt Col Roland Brett:

I'll sit with him now, Sister. Thank you very much.

[PRENTISS PANTS]

Video clip 2 transcript

Lt Col Roland Brett:

Lawrence? Laurie? When you were here before, listening to this helped. I don't know why but it did. Perhaps it will help again.

MUSIC: "Un Bel Di Vedremo" by Puccini

[PRENTISS SCREAMS]

Lt Col Roland Brett:
