

Why are we having less sex?

Video transcript - The revolution that came and went

We checked with our visitors to the love tent how often they're getting frisky under the duvet.

Birthdays, anniversaries or Christmas.

Five times a week but then towards the end it was once a month.

And then I hit 40 and I just thought it was too much like hard work.

It's just average for a 19yr old gay male in Wales.

Four or five times a week.

About three times a week.

Once or twice a week

Well, I'm single so I don't get any.

Sex doesn't interest us now, no, we've gone past that.

We're usually once a week, definitely, but it used to be, when we were courting and not living together, it was a lot more.

I'm having sex a lot less now.

I don't know, three or four times a week, oh my God.

I'd say about twice, three times maybe but I'm planning on getting my own place so it will be a lot more.

You see this varies for me. I've had some relationships where I haven't had sex for weeks at a time but it's been fine because it's been really intimate but then I've had some relationships where it's been twice a day.

I'll say once a month.

We don't need to have sex to be able to enjoy each other's company, we're happy enough.

Honestly, not as much as I'd like.
