

Taking turns

There are lots of fun activities you can do at home to help babies and children learn about turn taking.

Did you know?

Having the chance to take a turn is one of the most important ways your child can start to learn to talk.

Taking turns at home

Turn-taking games can become part of everyday activities, try

- Taking turns to splash at bath time
- Building towers together and taking turns to knock them down
- Singing their favourite songs and leaving pauses between the lines

How does this help?

Turn-taking games help babies and children to learn

- To listen and respond when someone speaks
- The foundations of conversations

For more activities and resources please visit www.bit.ly/tinyhappypeople

Instagram/@thp_pilot

