Little Red Riding Hood

This girl is called Little Red Riding Hood. One day, her mother says, “Go and see your grandmother. Bring her some cakes.”

Little Red Riding Hood goes to her grandmother’s house. In the woods, she sees a big wolf. The wolf asks her, “Where are you going little girl?”

Little Red Riding Hood says, “I’m going to see my grandmother to bring her some cakes.”

The wolf asks her, “Where does she live?”

“She lives in a little house in another village,” says Little Red Riding Hood.

The wolf is the first to arrive at grandmother's house. Knock! Knock!

"Who's there?" says the grandmother.

"It's your granddaughter, Little Red Riding Hood," says the wolf.

"Come in my granddaughter," says the grandmother.

The wolf enters the house and eats the grandmother.

Little Red Riding Hood enters the house and says to the wolf,

"Grandma, what big ears you've got!"

"All the better to hear you with, my child."

"Grandma, what big eyes you've got!"

"All the better to see you with, my child."

“Grandma, what big teeth you’ve got!” ✨

“All the better to eat you with!”

With all her force, Little Red Riding Hood hits the wolf with a rolling pin and he falls to the ground.

She goes back to her mother’s house on foot through the forest to return to her mother, eating the cake as she goes!
