

Where we live

Are you ready for our lush green countryside adventure. It's time to set off from our urban home in the town, in this terraced street.

Some of the houses are tall with two or more storeys and some are short like a bungalow, which is all on one floor.

As we head out past the suburban areas, you'll see villages, which are like a town but smaller.

Oh look at those roads and blocks of flats where people live in the distance. That looks like a city.

Lots of tall buildings, close together where loads of people and vehicles bustle and move around.

A farmer is ushering a train of cows over the road. We have to wait for these cows to mooooooove along. They're walking in a herd to that large barn surrounded by fields.

This looks like a great place to stay. We can go camping here. It doesn't have the comforts of back home, but it will be an adventure.

Oh oh, you need somewhere to shelter and fast.
