

Das Alibi

NARRATOR	Ein Problem.
POLICE OFFICER	Also, wo waren Sie am Montag, den fünften Juli um fünfzehn Uhr dreißig?
MALE	Ich habe Handball im Park gespielt, weil es fit hält und der Mannschaftsgeist toll ist.
NARRATOR	Ein Polizist will Antworten.
POLICE OFFICER	Und wo waren Sie am Samstag, den siebten August kurz vor Mittag?
MALE	Ich bin zum Freibad gegangen, um zu tauchen und um Freunde zu treffen. Ich mag es dort, weil es immer so entspannend ist.
NARRATOR	Er will die Wahrheit.
POLICE OFFICER	Und was haben Sie am folgenden Mittwochabend, den elften August gemacht?
MALE	Ich bin am folgenden Mittwochabend zum Eiscafé gegangen, weil ich Spaghettieis sehr gern esse.
NARRATOR	Er will alles herausfinden.
POLICE OFFICER	Also, wer ist dieser Mann?
MALE	Aber das bin ich nicht!
NARRATOR	‘Das Alibi.’ Jetzt im Kino.

Translation

The Alibi

NARRATOR	A problem.
POLICE OFFICER	So, were where you on Monday, 5 July at 15:00?
MALE	I played handball at the park, because it keeps you fit and the team spirit is great.
NARRATOR	A police officer wants answers.
POLICE OFFICER	And where were you on Saturday, 7 August, shortly before midday?
MALE	I went to the outdoor pool to go diving and to meet some friends. I love it there because it is always so relaxing.
NARRATOR	He wants the truth.
POLICE OFFICER	And what did you do on the following Wednesday evening, 11 August?
MALE	The following Wednesday evening I went to the ice-cream parlour, because I really like to eat spaghetti ice cream.
NARRATOR	He wants to find out everything.
POLICE OFFICER	So, who is this man?
MALE	But that's not me!
NARRATOR	'The Alibi.' In cinemas now.
